PRESIDENT'S IMPRESSIONS

Dear Members,

It is an incredible honour to step into the role of President of this prestigious club - an organization built by passion, driven by purpose and sustained by the spirit of each one of you.

As we turn the page to a new chapter, I am inspired by the legacy we inherit, and energized by the possibilities ahead.

Ever since the new executive committee came into office in September 2025, Ranchi Club has witnessed a new vibrancy. A number of events such as Dhol Baaje 3.0, Chip and Chair Poker Tournament, Tadaaah, Stand Up Comedy Show, Jazz Night have been a huge success.

Celebrating Diwali - Adyant Diwali and Halloween - Rituals of Shadows at the club transformed the space into a vibrant tapestry of culture, creativity and community spirit.

Thanks to our executive committee members each event was thoughtfully curated to blend tradition with a contemporary flair - Diwali glowed with the warmth of lamps, festive decor and shared moments of joy; Halloween invited playful imagination through themed settings and performances.

Through meticulous planning, engaging activities and a focus on inclusivity, Ranchi Club's festive events reflect its commitment to enriching social life, strengthening bonds and offering experiences that resonate long after the celebrations conclude.

This year, my vision is simple, to transform our ideas into impact, to strengthen the thread that binds us while boldly exploring new possibilities. We will invest in fresh initiatives that honour our heritage yet push us towards innovation. We will create a platform for voices - long time and new - to be heard, celebrated and empowered.

And above all, we will continue to nurture the spirit of fellowship that has always been our greatest strength.

I look forward to serving you - and growing with you - in the remarkable months to come.

Sandeep Sahu
President

AGM MEETING

20th September 2025

SRI LANKA IS THE NEW HOTTEST DESTINATION TO TRAVEL!!

Beach at Galle

If you're sitting in Ranchi right now, scrolling through Instagram and seeing yet another video of Bali, stop. Look South. No, not to Goa—we all know how expensive a flight from Birsā Munda Airport to Dabolim has become, and let's not even talk about the taxi mafia there. I'm talking about the teardrop-shaped island that is quietly becoming the world's favorite tropical escape: Sri Lanka.

For us, Sri Lanka is the perfect upgrade. It feels familiar yet foreign, exotic yet affordable. You can rent a private villa with a pool here for less than the price of a cramped hotel room in Goa. But more than the price, it is the soul of this place that gets you. It is a country of endless green, misty mountains that rival our own Netarhat, and beaches that look like they've been plucked straight out of a glossy travel magazine.

Here is exactly how you should spend your time on this magical island.

Part 1: The Tropical Landing and River Magic

Your journey begins in Colombo, the capital. Don't make the mistake of treating this just as a transit point; Colombo is a vibe all its own. The moment you step out, the air is thick and tropical, smelling faintly of the sea and spices. You spend your first evening at the Lotus Tower, the tallest structure in South Asia. Standing on the observation deck, looking out at the glittering city lights meeting the dark Indian Ocean, you realize you've truly arrived.

Before heading south, you stop at the Gangaramaya Temple. It isn't just a temple; it's an architectural marvel, cluttered with artifacts, vintage cars, and statues—a chaotic, beautiful blend of history and spirituality.

A short, breezy 1.5-hour drive takes you to Bentota. If Colombo is the buzz, Bentota is the exhale. This is where you encounter the Madu River Safari. Imagine drifting on a boat through tunnels formed by mangrove roots, the light filtering through the green canopy like a cathedral. It feels prehistoric. You stop at small islands to watch locals peel cinnamon (the smell is intoxicating) and even dip your feet into a fish spa right in the middle of the river.

Nearby is the Turtle Hatchery, a humble spot that does noble work. Holding a day-old baby turtle in your palm, knowing it will soon brave the vast ocean, is a core memory you won't forget.

Part 2: The Misty Highlands and The Ramayana Trail

From the humid coast, you ascend into the clouds. The air gets crisp, and you might even reach for a sweater—yes, in Sri Lanka!

Your first stop is the Cultural Triangle to climb Sigiriya, the Lion Rock. It is a massive column of rock rising out of the jungle, topped with the ruins of an ancient palace. The climb is steep, but the view from the top—360 degrees of emerald forest—is worth every breathless step. Nearby, the Dambulla Cave Temples leave you silent; centuries-old Buddha statues rest in dim, painted caves that feel vibrantly alive with energy.

Then, you head to Kandy, the spiritual heart of the island. The Temple of the Tooth Relic houses a tooth of the Buddha, and during the evening puja, the drumming and the scent of jasmine flowers create an atmosphere so thick with devotion it gives you goosebumps.

From Kandy, you board the famous blue train to Ella. This isn't just a commute; it's the most beautiful train ride in the world. You hang out of the open doors (safely!), feeling the wind on your face as the train chugs through endless tea plantations, crossing bridges and winding through mist. You buy spicy vada and hot tea from vendors who hop on board, eating while watching waterfalls cascade down the green hills.

You arrive in Nuwara Eliya, often called "Little England." With its red-brick post offices and rose gardens, it feels like a different continent. But for us, the connection here is ancient. You visit the Seetha Amman Temple and the Hakgala Botanical Garden, believed to be the Ashok Vatika. Standing by the stream where Mata Sita is said to have bathed, surrounded by the very mountains described in the Ramayana, is a deeply moving, spiritual experience that connects you to your roots in a profound way.

Finally, you descend into the wild at Yala National Park. It's a dusty, thrilling adventure where peacocks dance on the trails and elephants cross right in front of your jeep. And if you are lucky—really lucky—you will spot the elusive leopard, the ghost of the jungle, lounging on a rock.

Part 3: Surfing, Sunsets, and Colonial Charm

For the final leg, you head to the deep south, where the energy shifts from spiritual to electric. This is the "New Bali" everyone talks about.

You base yourself near Galle, a town that wears its history on its sleeve. Walking through the Galle Dutch Fort at sunset is like stepping back into the 17th century. The cobblestone streets are lined with Dutch-colonial buildings now turned into chic cafes, gelaterias, and boutiques. You walk the ramparts as the sky turns purple, watching locals dive off the high walls into the ocean below.

The coast here is studded with gems. Mirissa is famous for whale watching—seeing a Blue Whale, the largest animal to ever live, breach the water is humbling. In the evenings, Mirissa beach transforms into a party hub with candlelit seafood barbecues and music.

For a younger, hipper vibe, you head to Ahangama and Hiriketiya. These towns are the surfer's paradise. The vibe is incredibly laid back; think yoga in the morning, surfing in the afternoon, and dancing barefoot on the sand at night. The cafes here serve smoothie bowls that look like art, and the crowd is a mix of travelers from all over the world, all looking for that perfect wave.

A Note on Food & Comfort

One worry many of us from Ranchi have is food: "Will I get good veg food?" The answer is a resounding yes. Sri Lanka is a vegetarian's paradise. You will fall in love with Kottu Roti, a street food made of chopped flatbread and vegetables that tastes like a spicy, comforting hug. Then there are Hoppers (Appam), crispy bowl-shaped pancakes perfect for breakfast, and Polos, a jackfruit curry so tender and flavorful you won't believe it's not meat.

Traveling here is easy. Unlike the haggling wars of Goa, here you can hire a private car and driver for your entire trip for a surprisingly reasonable rate. It adds a layer of luxury and ease that makes the whole vacation feel truly special.

So, pack your bags. The Pearl of the Indian Ocean is waiting, and trust me, it's going to be the best trip of your life.

THE INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY AND CULTURAL CENTER

"The only thing you absolutely have to know, is the location of the library"
(Albert Einstein)

Denizens of Ranchi are cordially invited to visit The International Library and Cultural Center, or The British Library as we once knew it. ILCC, situated on Club Road, has been renovated, refurbished and restocked with the latest national and international bestsellers, as also award winning novels. The children's section has also been enhanced. Study books for various competitions have been updated.

ILCC has its beginnings in 1995 when the British Library, established in 1963, was to close down due to financial constraints. Mrs. A. B. Davis along with Mrs. Nonica Kher, Mr. Moyukh Vinave, Dr. K. K. Sinha, Dr. Majid Alam and other prominent citizens of Ranchi, offered to form a trust, take over the library and run it themselves. With the support of the then Governor of undivided Bihar, Mr. A. R. Kidwai, members of the ILCC Trust were able to persuade the British Council in Calcutta to hand over its assets to the charitable trust and on Sep 30th 1995 ILCC was established.

ILCC has come a long way since then. At the suggestion of Mr. A. R. Kidwai the library also became a cultural center where various activities like music, art, dance and language classes were held regularly. Panel discussions, film festivals and theatre workshops were also conducted. After seeing a glorious, vibrant and creative period the library was hit by Covid and the lock-down.

It is a matter of pride for Ranchi that ILCC has survived all the knocks that it has received over time and continues to function successfully. Inter-school competitions are being conducted regularly and successfully, providing a platform for children of Ranchi to showcase their talents in an atmosphere of friendly competition. Membership at ILCC is on the rise again, thanks especially to its extended hours (10 am to 8 pm) and 7-day week.

"I have always imagined that Paradise will be a kind of a Library"
(Jorge Luis Borges)

Calling all Ranchi residents—check out the new ILCC!!
